8:00am – 6:00pm

Registration Open, sponsored by Ontario Real Estate Association

8:30am – 10:30amWorkshops*1. Raising Corporate Sponsorship Revenues in Rural Municipalities, sponsored by The Partnership Group, Sponsorship SpecialistsDominion Ballroom North, 2nd floor

This workshop is designed for rural municipalities to better understand the opportunities in raising revenues outside of increased taxes or user fees. As the sponsorship and commercial naming rights landscape for rural municipalities differs from urban centres, this session will focus on the rural experience and your unique opportunities.

Join us to better understand the benefits, the drawbacks, the issues and the celebrations of corporate partnership and naming right deals in rural municipalities in Ontario.

If your rural municipality has ever considered getting into the “sponsorship and naming right” game or if you are already doing it and want to know more about it and the pros and cons or how to fix your existing program, this is the session for you.

- Brent Barootes, President and CEO, Partnership Group: Sponsorship Specialists

2. Exercise Cold Front: Strengthening Provincial-Municipal Coordination During an Ice StormProvincial Ballroom South, 2nd floor

Our municipalities are the first line of defense during any severe weather event. Exercise Cold Front will test how local governments collaborate with Ontario’s Ministry of Emergency Preparedness and Response under the province’s new one-window approach. In this tabletop exercise, we are focusing on activating provincial support and leveraging Ontario Corps resources to enhance municipal response capabilities during an ice storm scenario. Participants will explore strategies for seamless coordination, resource mobilization, and effective communication to ensure a resilient and unified emergency response.

3. Shifting Citizenry, Shifting Services: What Council Must Plan for NowDominion Ballroom South, 2nd floor

Our communities are changing. New populations bring new needs and expectations. Small and rural communities in Ontario are equally challenged with managing growth or depopulation, changing demographics, and insufficient affordable housing. Once municipal leaders gain a better understanding of the shifts taking place in their communities they can address these changing needs through proactive infrastructure management, housing needs assessments, and integrated capital planning.

Join this session to share the challenges you face and learn about tools and strategies to address them.

- Erin Orr, Program Advisor, Infrastructure Asset Management, AMO
- Christina Benty, Strategic Leadership Solutions

4. Planning Canada's Next Deep Geological Repository: Your Voice Matters, sponsored by NWMO

Civic Ballroom North, 2nd floor

The Nuclear Waste Management Organisation (NWMO) is beginning the process to identify a site for Canada's second deep geological repository – a facility designed for the safe, long-term storage of intermediate- and high-level nuclear waste.

We know that strong communities are built on trust, transparency, and collaboration. That's why we're committed to listening to local voices from the very start. Over the next two years, we'll be engaging with municipalities, Indigenous communities, industry, and other stakeholders to shape the site selection process. Your input will help guide how this project moves forward.

Why should rural municipalities get involved?

Rural municipalities play a vital role in shaping decisions that affect land use, infrastructure, and economic development. Your perspective matters.

Join this workshop to learn more about Canada's second deep geological repository, review the draft site selection plan, and share your feedback. Together, we can ensure this process reflects the priorities and values of rural communities.

The site selection process is expected to launch in 2028 – now is the time to have your say.

5. HEARing Rural Voices: Data Municipalities Can Use Tomorrow

Civic Ballroom South, 2nd floor

Rural Ontario needs better data to support effective planning, economic development, and climate adaptation. The HEAR Initiative (Health, Economics, Adaptation in Rural Communities Initiative) is designed to meet that need. In this interactive workshop, rural leaders will explore how HEAR's new resident-level data will strengthen municipal decision-making, support funding and advocacy, and reflect the lived realities of rural communities across Ontario. Join us to help shape the future of rural data.

- Leith Deacon, Associate Professor & McCall MacBain Chair in Resilient Rural Communities, School of Environmental Design and Rural Development, University of Guelph

1:00pm – 2:15pm Concurrent Sessions

1. The Dirt on Cemeteries

Dominion South, 2nd floor

Municipalities are responsible for abandoned cemeteries within their jurisdiction. There have been a growing number of rural municipalities who have had to take responsibility for cemeteries as local places of worship are sold, often without sufficient care and maintenance funds. This session will provide rural municipalities with information and insights on their responsibilities for cemeteries in their community.

Chair: Tanya Vrebosch, Councillor, City of North Bay, ROMA Board Member

- Crystal Forrest, Chief Compliance Officer / Deputy Registrar, Bereavement Authority of Ontario
- Mark Richardson, President, Ontario Association of Cemetery and Funeral Professionals
- Sonia McLuckie, Cemetery Administrator, Greater Napanee

2. Leveraging New Opportunities to Develop Housing in Rural Ontario

Sheraton Hall E-F, Lower Concourse

Strategic methods and innovative ways can be used to leverage opportunities to grow rural communities and create new market and non-market housing for low- and moderate-income households. An opportunity to explore is working with Build Canada Homes to ensure that rural Ontario will benefit from this new federal housing initiative.

Chair: Nathan Townend, Warden, County of Lennox and Addington

- Brian Marks, Chief Administrative Officer Lead, Northern Ontario Service Deliverers Association
- Connor Dorey, Chief Administrative Officer, Hastings County
- Claire Dodds, Commissioner of Community Development, Bruce County

3. Strengthening Rural Vitality through Arts and Culture

Civic Ballroom North, 2nd floor

This concurrent will explore how arts and culture can be a driving force for spurring social and economic development and return on investment in rural communities and will share on the ground experiences from rural municipalities.

Chair: Pam Sayne, Councillor, Township of Minden Hills

- Janet Jarrell, Executive Director, Quinte Arts Council, Alliance of Arts Councils of Ontario (AACO)
- Jamie McKenzie-Naish, Operations Manager, Ontario Museum Association
- Neeky Dalir, Policy Analyst, Ontario Chamber of Commerce

4. Rural Road Safety

Dominion Ballroom North, 2nd floor

Rural roads tend to be older, in poorer condition, and incorporate only basic road safety infrastructure. As a result, while rural Ontario is home to 17 per cent of the population, 55 per cent of the road fatalities occur on rural roads. This session hears from municipalities and experts on successful approaches to tackling this critical issue.

Chair: Mark Wilson, Councillor, City of Temiskaming Shores, ROMA Board Member

- Mike Pearsall, Consultant
- Heide Schlegl, Milton Traffic Manager, Ontario Traffic Council Board

1. OLTCA: Jobs, Families, and Care Close to Home: The Case for Rural Long-Term Care
Sheraton Hall E

Rural long-term care is essential to the strength and sustainability of Ontario's rural communities—supporting local employment, keeping families connected, and ensuring seniors can receive care close to home. In this session, the Ontario Long Term Care Association will present key provincial and rural-specific data that demonstrate the role long-term care plays as both a care provider and an economic anchor. Rural leaders will gain insight into demographic trends, access challenges, seniors' expectations and the local impacts communities experience when long-term care capacity is strained or lost. This evidence-based discussion is designed to support informed local leadership and advocacy to protect and strengthen senior's care in rural Ontario.

2. Xplore Inc.: Bringing Faster Internet to Your Municipality, how can you help?

Osgoode West, Lower Concourse

Attend our Breakfast Insight to learn how your municipality can fast-track connectivity and unlock the full potential of your community. Xplore is deploying fibre and 5G Ultra across rural Ontario delivering super fast speeds. Municipalities can work with us to accelerate deployments and bring reliable, high-speed internet to residents and businesses sooner.

3. Ontario 1Call, Unified Mapping of Underground Infrastructure in Ontario

Sheraton Hall A, Lower Concourse

Ontario One Call is launching a province-wide strategy to unify underground infrastructure mapping, aimed at improving safety, efficiency, and supporting future growth. The initiative emphasizes collaboration, modernization, and advanced technology to streamline excavation and protect critical assets.

4. Ontario Regional Economic & Workforce Innovation Network (OREWIN): Colleges Ontario: Driving Workforce and Economic Resilience in Small, Northern and Rural Ontario

Sheraton Hall B, Lower Concourse

Small, northern and rural communities are actively shaping their economic futures through community-driven partnerships with municipalities, colleges, and employers. In this brief panel discussion, municipal and college leaders will discuss how these partnerships help respond to local labour market needs, support local industries, and build workforce and economic resilience during periods of change.

The conversation will highlight how colleges in small, northern and rural regions act as community anchors by delivering flexible training, supporting local employers, and helping residents access opportunity close to home. It will also explore how the Ontario Regional Economic and Workforce Innovation Network, OREWIN, strengthens collaboration between colleges, municipalities, and industry to support regional resilience across Ontario.

5. LAS: From Experience to Action: A Rural Leaders Conversation

Sheraton Hall C, Lower Concourse

Whether you're a seasoned pro or new to municipal life, Rural Leaders all have exceptional ideas on how we can improve our municipalities.
